On February 15th, a ribbon cutting ceremony was held for the new section of the Bob Jones City-to-Sea Bikeway. Over 150 people were in attendance to celebrate the new path, which extends from Prado Road and ends at Los Osos Valley Road. It’s a great feeling to ride fresh pavement on a brand new trail. We look forward to when the trail will connect across Los Osos Valley Road and extend all the way to Avila Beach.

New Section of the Bob Jones Trail Now Open

New Bike Lanes in Arroyo Grande

How’s this for a Coalition triumph? Last year the Coalition led an effort to get bike lanes on parts of Grand Avenue in Arroyo Grande. Citizens rallied before the City Council about the need to make this street better for biking and they heard you. We now have something to celebrate. Just recently the city repaved the road and added the bike lanes between Halcyon Road and Barnett Street. While we’d like to see bike lanes along the entire corridor, we think this is a great start.

A Message from the Executive Director

This spring, we saw the unveiling of a new portion of the Bob Jones City-to-Sea Trail, a bikeway that when completed will extend from Avila Beach all the way to downtown San Luis Obispo. The new section extends from Prado Road to near Los Osos Valley Road. Some are disappointed that the trail does not yet have a southern access point. I hear their concerns, but as Peggy Mandeville, the city’s principal transportation planner has said, “I see the glass as half full.” I agree. While I look forward to the day when the trail will extend across Los Osos Valley Road and connect to the county’s portion of the trail, what we have now is a beautiful stretch of off-street bicycling, lined with beautiful views, flora and fauna. At the unveiling ceremony, I saw riders of every kind. What I remember most was a very young brother and sister in the arms of mommy and daddy. They were probably too young to know what the occasion was all about but the smiles on their faces was all I needed to see. It makes me proud of the work we do in making our community a better place to live. Thanks for being a part of it.

What if there was a way to ride a bike from Cal Poly all the way to the southern limits of San Luis Obispo without having to deal with auto traffic? That’s exactly what is aimed with the Railroad Safety Trail, which will provide a beautiful bike path paralleling the railroad tracks through downtown. This project has had enormous progress recently. Last year, the Bicycle Coalition continued our Bike the Budget campaign, leading a letter writing effort and rallying the community at the San Luis Obispo City Council Community Budget Forum. Our efforts have made the Railroad Safety Trail a high priority project. We’ve also helped leverage over $1.2 million in state funds and are working to secure over $500,000 in federal funding through the SLO Council of Governments. This summer the city will begin constructing a new section of the trail from Foothill Blvd to Hwy 101. Cal Poly will also construct a portion of the trail behind Mustang Stadium. Unfortunately, these two sections do not connect and so the Rotary Club of San Luis Obispo is leading a $307,000 fundraising effort to complete the missing link. This project has many partners including the Land Conservancy, ECOSLO, the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce, Sierra Vista Regional Medical Center, and many others. The Bicycle Coalition is pleased to join this partnership.

Bike Valet: Germinated and Ready to Grow

We are very excited for all of the improvement plans we expect to accomplish with the Bike Valet Program this upcoming season. Thanks to all of the hard work put in by Brian Kurotsuchi over the last two years the valet was more than ready for transition into new hands when Dan Rivoire, our new Bike Valet Program Coordinator, came on board in February. Now old concepts and dreams for the bike valet have the support and passion to become reality. Furthermore, it is bike season! Good weather approaches, bringing with it smiling cyclists excited to ride to farmers market, go to community bike events, and dance their hearts out at concerts in the plaza.

Here are some of the specifics:

- Employees at local offices for SRAM and REC Solar as well as the Tall Bike Posse have begun volunteering at the Valet, fulfilling step one of our group volunteer model.

- Bike Valet Parking will be offered at the Earth Day Fair in the Plaza, helping extend our services for more events in the community.

- In accordance with Bike Month, the Valet Program will be operating more events than ever before. This includes much anticipated expansion into North and South County Farmers Markets, parking at the Bike In Movie and the Bike Fashion Show. Ten Bike Valet parking lots will be in operation at events throughout May!

- Thanks to the wonderful nature of our local bike shops, all eight farmers market bike valets in May will feature mechanics! This means that every bike parked will receive a ‘check-up’ and minor repairs will be made at the valet.

- Again, the Bike Valet will be included in the San Luis Obispo City’s Concerts in the Plaza Series this summer. Back to back Bike Valet in SLO on Thursdays and Fridays, from June until August.

- Throughout the season we will be making much needed repairs and improvements to www.slobikevalet.org including photo/statistical updates and volunteer management systems overhaul.

- In effort to establish an efficient succession plan for the Bike Valet Program, the preparation of a Bike Program Coordinator Manual as well as group and individual Volunteer Manuals are under way and will be completed by June 30th.

As you can see, the amount of activity at the Bike Valet will make for a very exhilarating season. If you know of any Bike Valet appropriate events, volunteer groups, or simply have ideas that you are interested in sharing please contact Dan Rivoire, Bike Valet Program Coordinator, at dan@slobikelane.org.

News Flash: Bike Valet reaches 5,000 Bikes Parked!

5,038 Bikes Parked and counting...

On Thursday, May 1st the bike valet rewarded the 5000th rider with glorious prizes including $50 to Cambria Bike Outfitters, $10 to Boo Boo Records, a bottle of Wolf Vineyard’s Syrah, and San Luis Surf Company Gear.

We would like to extend a huge thank you to Nimble Creative Events, Boo Boo Records, Central Coast Wines, and San Luis Surf Company for their generous donations and support of the Bike Valet.

Thank you cyclists for parking your bikes at the Valet! Please keep it up and help us reach our next landmark number, you could be the next big winner. Check out the ‘Bike Valet Calendar’ at www.slobikevalet.org to find out which community events will feature a Bike Valet.

National Bike Summit

Adam Fukushima and I attended the National Bike Summit in Washington DC March 5-6, convened by the League of American Bicyclists. About 500 advocates from across the country participated.

One exciting thing was the new organizations participating. The Bikes Belong Coalition bought lead sponsorship. They are a coalition of bicycle manufacturers and dealers and they recognize that their future is tied closely to inclusion of bicycling as a federal strategy in transportation funding.

Another new partner is International Mountain Biking Association, those wacky guys who ride bicycles over dirt and rocks. They also understand the power of bicyclists standing together.

The National Parks Service also worked with the Summit this year and asked us to help them lobby for $1 billion to support bicycling.

Representative Earl Blumenauer, D-OR, appearing in a suit with a big bow tie and a bicycle clip strapped around his right ankle, earned an ovation when he said, “We should be indignant at public discrimination against people who burn calories instead of carbon fuel.”

Jeff Johnson of Clif Bar presented their corporate program called “The Two Mile Challenge.” Jeff gave us statistics about driving—40% of all U.S. travel consists of trips that are two miles or less and 90% of those trips are done by car. Since 60% of CO2 emissions occur during the first minute of motor operation, we could improve air quality significantly by using non-motorized transportation for short trips.

Clif Bar cruises the country in a biodiesel-fueled bus promoting the bicycle as an alternative to driving. You can go to their website, 2milechallenge.com, type in an address and see a two mile circle around that location.

For instance, from the County Government Center, a two mile trip will take you to Cal Poly, Laguna Lake, or the Coalition Office where you can say hello to Adam, Jeanné, and Dan.

The purpose of the summit was to educate us on current transportation issues, then turn us loose in the Congressional office buildings to lobby our representatives and senators to support bicycling.

William Miller, President of the American Public Transportation Association, told us that, at $3.00 per gallon for gasoline, the annual cost of a car driven 5,000 miles is $11,000. Annual bicycle cost is $120.

Changing from a two-car household to one car reduces the household carbon footprint by 30% which is a greater reduction than if the household went off the electricity grid.

Barbara McCann gave us a presentation on Complete Streets, which is built around a premise that public rights of way should accommodate all roadway users—pedestrians, bicyclists, transit, motorists, travelers of all ages and abilities, including the 37% of Americans who do not drive.

On Thursday, LAB scheduled visits for us with our representatives and senators. Adam and I visited offices of Dennis Cardoza, Adam Schiff, Darrell Issa, Lois Capps, Kevin McCarthy, Barbara Boxer and Dianne Feinstein.

A few minutes with a representative may seem like a small thing, but I want to pass on to you William Miller’s words, “Changing our energy usage direction will require billions of small steps.” I feel as if Adam and I took some of those steps.

Said differently, many of our RTA buses can carry up to 6 bicycles at a time. This gives transit users more creativity with their commute. Is your bus stop a little far to reach by foot? Now you can bike to the bus stop and have more mobility options once you reach your destination. For more information about bus schedules countywide, visit www.rideshare.org. Rideshare also has bike lockers available at bike friendly bus stops. Call 781.4362 to check one out.
